- Global energy leader chooses GEP's cloud-native procurement software platform to power digital procurement strategy

Clark, N.J. – June 1, 2018 – GEP, a leading provider of procurement software and procurement services to Fortune 500 and Global 2000 enterprises worldwide, announced today that Chevron Corporation has selected SMART by GEP® procurement software, the industry's leading cloud-native sourcing, procurement and spend management software platform.

The company, headquartered in San Ramon, California, selected SMART by GEP for full, source-to-pay capabilities, including sourcing and project management, contract and supplier management and comprehensive procure-to-pay for a global rollout.

“We weighed our options carefully, and after a thorough evaluation process, we selected SMART by GEP,” said Ryder Booth, CPO at Chevron, “We believe SMART by GEP is the right procurement platform for Chevron, aligned with our goal of improving the user experience for the procurement of goods and services across the company.”

“We've made a strategic commitment and substantial continuing investment in bringing the most powerful digital technologies together in a comprehensive, entirely unified, cloud-native source-to-pay platform,” said Subhash Makhija, CEO of GEP. “SMART by GEP is already among the most successful ‘consumerized’ enterprise-level business applications on the market today. And GEP has emerged as the source-to-pay software provider of choice for Fortune 500 and Global 2000 industry leaders seeking real digital business transformation and the game-changing benefits it delivers.

“We're honored by the fact that we work with market leaders across industries and sectors – such as oil & gas, consumer packaged goods, manufacturing, pharma & life sciences, technology, and financial services – on global deployments of stunning complexity and huge strategic impact.

“GEP is increasingly the preferred choice of forward-thinking companies like Chevron seeking fresh thinking, effective solutions and greater value.”

Makhija noted that SMART by GEP is the industry’s only cloud-native source-to-pay platform, purpose-built for enterprise sourcing and procurement teams on Microsoft Azure. GEP and partner Microsoft offer a world-class, enterprise-scale application delivered, maintained and secured on a world-class, enterprise-scale infrastructure that very few application providers can match.
